RHYMES AND RHYTHMS

Rhymes and Rhythms enchant our lives,
Breaking the dull routine sort of day
Into a new and special experience
With friends we meet along the way.

As time goes on through the years ahead,
We may find ourselves despairing;
Let us look back with loving hearts,
For we have learned the importance of . . . CARING

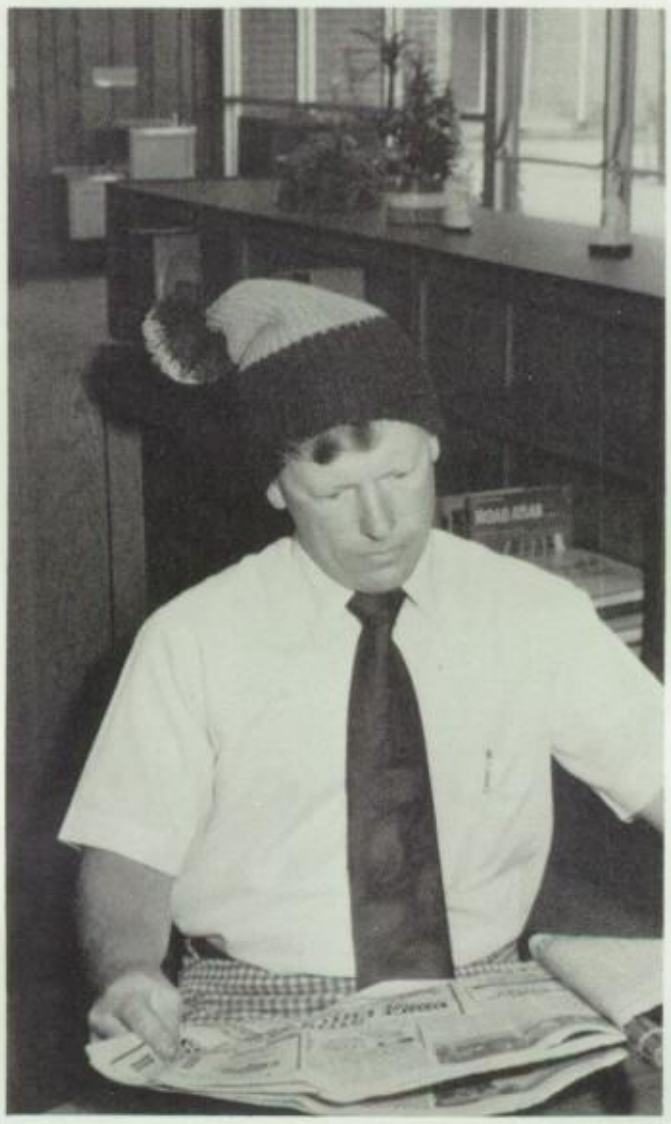
Dedication

As the final days of high school draw to a close, there seems to be one person standing out in the minds of the '77 Seniors. This person, in his many activities, radiates an atmosphere of happiness and humor wherever he may be. To all those he encounters, there is always a word of hope and encouragement given. He creates for us a feeling of gratitude for our school and all our fellow students. So, for all his love and kindness he has shown to us, the Seniors of 1977 show our appreciation by dedicating this edition of the PHOENIX to our "captain," MR. JERRY KOONTZ.



Mr. And Miss Red Raider

Denese Morris And Orion Rogers

As the high school faculty makes a selection for Mr. and Miss Red Raider, there are so many things to consider. Among which are conduct, attitudes, leadership, cooperation and participation in all areas of school life. Denese and Orion can be depended on to give unselfishly of themselves in their time and talents, showing these desired characteristics.

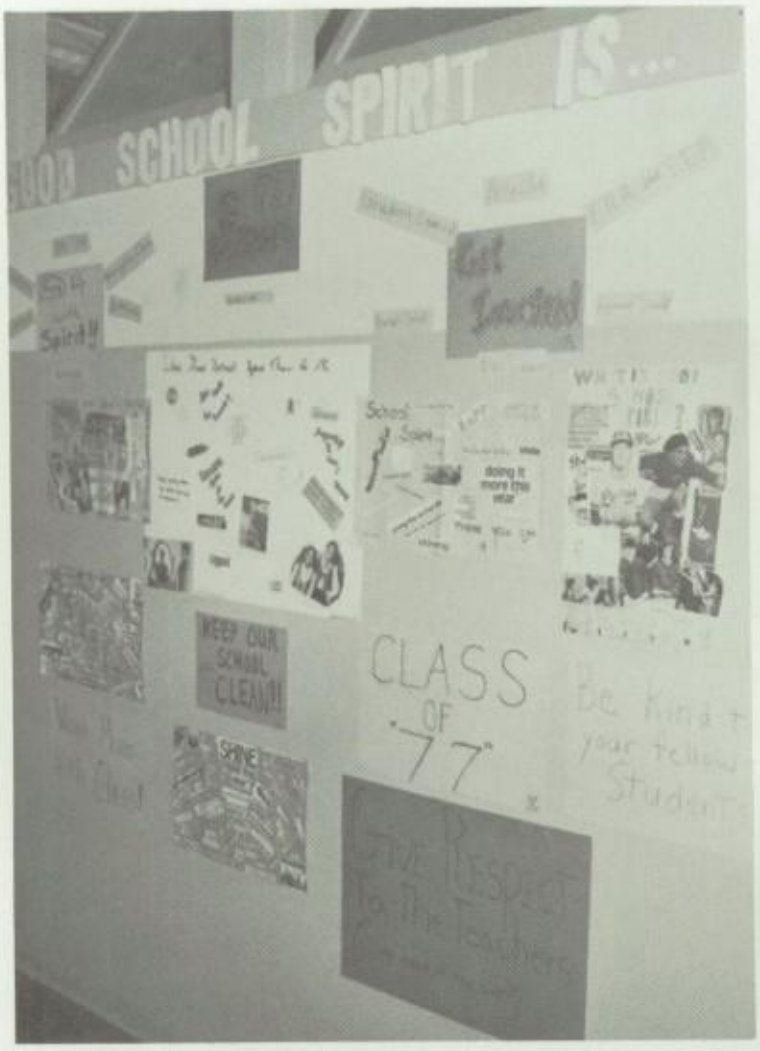
Student Council Inaugurates School Spirit Week



In addition to the customary activities of operating the concession stand during ball games, sponsoring Homecoming and Christmas dances, and assembly programs, the 1976-77 Student Council inaugurated School Spirit Week. Competition between classes involved wearing headbands indicating grade level, presenting skits showing good and bad school spirit, writing essays, and making posters. Cheryl Settle won the essay contest, and the Seniors were declared overall winners of the week's competition.

What could we talk about? What would

The things we learn here will prove useful indeed
Because without knowledge we can never succeed.

As we pause in our wayfaring,
That our hearts are ever grateful

In memory of our former classmate and dear friend
MARK HALTOM

Though days and years pass swiftly by,
Erasing the mind's grasp of places and events,
Still we hold firmly to fond memories
We have of those we have loved.

Thought pictures remain of times gone by -
Happy times of football games,
Of basketball practice and being with friends,
Of loving and being loved-and now missed.

Our days go on, and better are they
Having had the friendship of one whom we loved.
Memory will hold those happy moments shared,
Increasing the depth, the value of our lives.

TEACHERS

There are people who've showed us
that they truly care;
Our expenses and projects
they are willing to share;
They too have encouraged
our students to dare, Constantly helping as for the future we prepare.

Though it may have seemed that our calls never ended,
On our community and its cooperation
our activities depended;
Our gratitude and thanks
for their efforts unsparing
In lightening the loads we are valiantly . . . . . .

As I Come to the LAST PAGE

The staff of this year's PHOENIX has tried to convey in pictures and words the "Rhymes and Rhythms" of Denton School. It is a rhythm with thirteen beats from kindergarten through twelth grade, each beat changing as the years pass, changing, maturing, yet remaining the same. Together we all form a unique rhythm known only to us-this rhythm, our rhythm, one that only we can live up to.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all who have worked with this yearbook. As all the work draws to a close, so does a certain beat in my life.

As the years pass quickly before us all and as we pause to reminisce, I hope there will be many lasting and beautiful memories of the rhythms of 1977.

Best wishes to everyone.
